WONDERFUL STAKE ENTRIES

Kentucky Jockey Club's Lavish Offerings Bring Big Response.

Kentucky and Latonia Derbys Have Nearly Same Entry Lists —General Increases Shown.

Money tells in racing as in other pursuits. The munificent stake offerings of the Kentucky Jockey Club for the approaching spring meetings at Lexington, Louisville and Latonia have received entry lists testifying abundantly to high appreciation on the part of owners, as expressed in lavish nominations. When those nominations are ready for publication, as they soon will be, it will be disclosed that nearly every desirable horse in the land is included, the one conspicuous exception being Man o' War, which has been reserved for eastern racing. However, that circumstance is not without its compensation, in that it makes the races for three-year-olds more open affairs. One noticeable feature that the Kentucky and Latonia Derbys have practically the same number of entries and both show a decided gain over last year. Another is that the stake races for two-year-olds show great increases over 1919, a sufficient answer to fear expressed in some quarters of a shortage of horses of that age. The contrast between the 147 nominations of last year to the Queen City Handicap for two-year-olds at a mile and the 239 of this year is quite striking. This race will be run at the Latonia autumn meeting.

The new races, the Proctor Knott Handicap, at Churchill Downs and the Latonia Oaks, Daniel Boone Handicap and Ten Broeck Handicap at Latonia, have drawn quick recognition and big entry lists. Raising the Independence Handicap from its $4,000 added of last year to its $15,000 added of this year has had its due effect in an entry list of 130 horses, a gain of forty-eight over 1919. It is pretty safe to suggest that it will take a higher class horse than Drastic to win this now richest handicap of the American turf this year. To the winner will fall something in the neighborhood of $17,000 next July 3 or 5.

The Latonia meeting will be a great magnet this year. It could hardly be otherwise, with the following grand comparative showing of entries for 1919 and 1920:

LATONIA.

	1919.	1920.
Clipsetta Stakes, two-year-olds fillies	99	118
Harold Stakes, two-year-olds	90	145
Cincinnati Trophy, two-year-olds	133	181
Latonia Derby, three-year-olds	74	103
Latonia Oaks, three-year-old fillies	..	63
Ten Broeck Handicap, three-year-olds	..	85
Independence Handicap, three-year-olds and over	82	103
Daniel Boone Handicap, three-year-olds and over	..	103
Enquirer Handicap, three-year-olds and over	91	123
Quickstep Handicap, three-year-olds and over	59	102
Inaugural Handicap, three-year-olds and over	76	119
Queen City Handicap, two-year-olds	147	239
Total number of entries	851	1,514

First running of the following stakes:
The Latonia Oaks.
The Ten Broeck Stakes.
The Daniel Boone Handicap.

Comparatively the Churchill Downs patronage is on a par with that awarded Latonia, and its entry lists are:

CHURCHILL DOWNS.

	1919.	1920.
Debutante Stakes, two-year-old fillies	106	127
Bashford Manor Stakes, two-year-old colts	94	147
Spring Trial Stakes, two-year-olds	127	182
Kentucky Derby, three-year-olds	75	107
Kentucky Oaks, three-year-old fillies	60	66
Proctor Knott Handicap, three-year-olds	..	77
Kentucky H'd'p, three-year-olds and over	51	100
Clark Handicap, three-year-olds and over	86	118
Total number of entries	593	924

First running of the Proctor Knott Handicap.

No comparative statement is made for Lexington. Its stake races are important and keenly coveted, but in a way the Lexington racing is a preparation school for the greater doings to follow at Churchill Downs and Latonia. Those most vitally concerned are content to have it so. Lexington entries are everything that could be expected and, numerically, are:

Hinata Stakes, two-year-old fillies	78
Idle Hour Stakes, two-year-olds	97
Ashland Oaks, three-year-old fillies	53
Blue Grass Stakes, three-year-olds	63
Ben Ali Handicap, 3-year-olds and over	66
Camden Handicap, three-year-olds and over	52
Total number of entries	409

HORSES LEAVING HAVANA FOR BOWIE

A carload of horses will be transferred to the Bowie track next Monday, the shipment comprising the stables of F. Boughsman, C. McDonald, W. A. Crawford and S. Polk. The latter sends Poacher, Deckhand, Enos and Kilkenny.

WOODBURN IN CIVIL WAR TIMES

Lexington May Have Been Sent to Canada for Safety from Guerrillas.

In his recent splendid historical article on the leading sires of the period 1860-1870 Mr. Walter S. Vosburgh makes an unintentional error, I think. He writes of the exceptional advantages that Lexington enjoyed at Woodburn—all quite true—but then goes on to say that during the Civil War that farm was immune from attack on account of the fact that R. A. Alexander was a British subject and his property "safe from seizure" by either Union or Confederate forces.

As a matter of history Woodburn Farm was raided by Mosby's guerrillas (Confederates) in the early spring of 1865 and a number of valuable horses run off, principally, however, trotters. The stallion Bay Chief was killed in a running fight between the guerrillas and Union forces that went in pursuit of them; while Alexander's Abdallah (one of the greatest of all trotting progenitors) was ridden so hard that he died of fatigue and exposure. Far from being immune from attack, Woodburn was subject to it throughout the Civil War, and owing to this fact Mr. Alexander sent many of his best horses to the north out of harm's way. He then had a brother living at Montgomery, Ill., a little town only a couple of hours' ride from Chicago, and there he sent several carloads. Others were sent to Ohio. Some of these were trotters and some runners.

There is still living, and a visitor to Chicago quite frequently, little Gaul known as "Frenchy" Belland, now well past seventy, who was an exercise boy at Woodburn before the Civil War, and he has told me that Mr. Alexander sent a carload of thoroughbreds to Canada in his (Belland's) care in order to place them in safety.

Whether Lexington stayed at Woodburn right along or not I am not certain. He may have done so, as Alexander tried to keep up his breeding despite the war, and had he not done so would not have lost the horses referred to. That he (Alexander) was a British subject at this time I am not entirely sure. He was born in 1819 and died in 1887. The Alexander family came to Kentucky shortly after the revolution and settled in Woodford County. The grant of land to them from the United States, which includes the Woodburn tract, was issued in 1792. The property is still in the hands of the Alexander family, but no horses, either runners or trotters, have been bred there for about twenty years. R. A. Alexander, I have heard, was entitled to call himself "Sir" after the death of one of the older members of the family in Scotland, but declined to do so, and I believe called himself an American citizen. He may or may not have been American born.

Dan Swigert, who was superintendent at Woodburn for years, was his brother-in-law. Later Swigert established Elmendorf and there bred Salvator, Firenze and so many other celebrated runners. Still later Elmendorf passed to J. B. Haggin, and his estate still owns, I believe, the original track called by that name, though a number of the parcels that were added to it by J. B. Haggin have since his death been sold. Salvator died almost on the same spot where he was foaled, and I remember well going out to Elmendorf when in Kentucky the fall before he died and seeing him in the last stages of decrepitude. I have a superb protograph of him that one of our boys took there when he was in his prime. SALVATOR.

WEIGHTS FOR CUBA'S RICH HANDICAP

HAVANA, Cuba, March 10.—C. K. Moore's good horse Cromwell was awarded the top weight of 127 pounds for the $10,000 Grand National Handicap, to be run next Sunday. The weights announced yesterday afternoon were eagerly awaited by horsemen. The following are the imposts:

The horsemen were well pleased with the weights, predicting that the race will be one of the greatest ever witnessed in Cuba. The gross value of the stake will be approximately $13,000.

PRINCE PAL SHIPPED TO LOUISVILLE

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 10.—Prince Pal, which is to carry the colors of E. F Sims in the Kentucky Derby, unless something should transpire to prevent his running in that big race at Churchill Downs, was shipped yesterday afternoon from here to Louisville to join the horses William Wallace is training for James W. McClelland and his associates. "The colt loaded splendidly," said Mr. McClelland, "and he will not be long in the car. He will get a careful preparation for the Derby and we have good reason to expect that he has a good chance of winning it."

THORNCLIFFE PARK SEEKS TO RACE

TORONTO, Ont., March 10.—Announcement is made here unofficially that there will be racing at Thorncliffe Park this year. The Thorncliffe plant was badly damaged by the windstorm which wrought havoc in this neighborhood last December, but repairs will be made in plenty of time for the opening, which is scheduled for Tuesday, May 11. The meeting, if it goes, will be for the prescribed seven days and will be completed before the opening of the Canadian Racing Association's inaugural at Woodbine Park on Saturday, May 22.

JOCKEY DAVIES FOR KILMER STABLE

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 10.—Jockey T. Davis signed a contract today to ride for Willis Sharpe Kilmer, who owns Sun Briar Court, Binghamton, N. Y. Davies will also ride the John Sanford horses when not opposed to a Kilmer candidate.

W. H. Rowe, who has charge of the registration department of The Jockey Club, has returned to his office after several weeks' sickness.

HORSES NOW IN TRAINING AT BOWIE

Some in the Griffith, Gardner and Forman Stables Well Advanced in Their Condition.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 10.—Probably the most forward horses now at the Bowie track in preparation for the impending spring meeting of the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association, which will begin on the 1st of April, to run two weeks, are in the stables of J. Edwin Griffith, G. W. Forman and William Gardner. Bowie going has been bad for some time. There has been much snow and some ice, but at intervals it has been in such condition that work was possible, and on the days when it was not the trainers of these establishments, Harry Rites, William Short and George Zeigler, resorted to the public roads. The roads of Prince George County, Maryland, in which Bowie track lies, are dandy. Generally they are fit for galloping horses. The horses Rites is preparing for the racing of the first week of the Southern Maryland meeting are Mormon Elder, Amackassin, Veto, Griffwood, Katherine Harlan, Virginia L. and Senator Broderick. One or two of these are to be schooled for steeplechasing later on, but they will race first on the flat. Mormon Elder, Amackassin, Veto and Virginia L., the last named a filly that won a time or two in Maryland last spring, seem to be the most forward of the band. They are muscling up fast and will be ready to show some speed as soon as the track becomes safe enough for regular galloping.

Waukeag, Lord Herbert, Peerless One, Ballad and Ballast appear the fittest of the string Short is training for Forman. Forman was away in New Orleans all winter. These veteran campaigners have had a winter's rest for the first time in many years, and they appear to be grateful for it. Ballad, a horse of useful class when the going suits, is going to win during the first week of the Bowie meeting, unless the Prince George Park trainers miss their guess. The soft track will suit his bad feet. He will not require more than a couple of weeks' galloping. Lord Herbert, a frequent winner at Bowie last spring, is carrying plenty of flesh, but it is flesh of supple, rubberlike quality. Ballast is still light, but he is full of ginger. Hauberk, King Herod and St. Quentin are in the Forman stable, but they do not appear to be as far advanced as are Short's other oat hounds. If, however, King Herod stands he ought to make a useful sprinter next spring. He is a son of Colin and Acolat and has plenty of speed.

George Zeigler will be remembered as the one-time trainer of the stable of Frank Nolan of Albany, New York. He trained Old Koenig, Ima Frank and Sir John Johnson with great skill and success for a number of years. He has been on the job all winter. Zeigler believes that Uncle's Lassie and James A. Sheridan will be ready for the colors sometime in the course of the first week of the Bowie meeting, and he is fairly confident that no two-year-olds that wintered in these parts will have anything as regards condition on his three youngsters, which are sons of Dalhousie, Aeronaut and Lord Rock Sand. Gardner, Zeigler's boss, races under the assumed name "Crown Stable." Gardner was at Bowie last week.

TO STOP IRREGULAR NAME CHANGING

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 10.—Taking cognizance of the pernicious fashion for changing the names of registered horses in such a way as to destroy their identity when showing them the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association has condemned the practice and will take action to prevent it.

Algernon Daingerfield of The Jockey Club says that the practice of changing names without recording them is costing the thoroughbred race horse credit for many noteworthy achievements, not only in the show ring but on the polo field. Polo players and exhibitors of saddle horses and hunters, he says, seem to think nothing of changing the names of thoroughbreds when using them for these purposes, although they would not consider such a thing if entering them in races. Once the registered name of any horse is changed the identity of the animal is usually lost as soon as it changes hands under the new name.

Mr. Daingerfield's comment on the practice was called forth by the report from a prominent trainer at Belmont Park that one of the polo ponies in his string had run a mile in 1:57 on the inclosed track around his stable. When asked what manner of pony could make such a remarkable performance the trainer replied that he was a thoroughbred, but his name had been changed for the polo field, and now his registered name in the Stud Book is unknown to either trainer or owner.

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF

The Marquis de Villagodio, the great Spanish breeder of fighting bulls, is about to go in for racing, and is buying bloodstock in France.

The Vicomte d'Harcourt has been elected president of the French Societe d'Encouragement to replace the Prince d'Arenberg, who retires on account of his great age.

The crack English steeplechase rider J. R. Anthony is to have the mount on Troytown, the Irish jumper, which is being stoutly backed to win the Grand National and beat Poethlyn at Aintree March 24.

A new international event is in future to be run annually in France during the month of October, which will be known as the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, the value of which is to be $30,000. The Grand Prize of Paris is also to revert to its pre-war figure of $60,000.

HEAVY AT JEFFERSON PARK

More Rain Reduces the Track to About Its Worst Condition.

Superb Proves Himself a Good Mud Runner—Dixie Carroll Wins the Main Race.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 10.—A change from the recent invasion of chilly weather to decidedly warmer brought rain along with it, and the Jefferson Park track was deep and holding today. As a result slow time was scored and most of the favorites were beaten. Necessarily the attendance was somewhat below the general good average of the meeting.

The customary opening dash for two-year-olds disclosed a real mud runner in the Superman colt Superb. He was the post favorite after having been backed down from 5 to 1 to 11 to 5. Under Lyke's skillful guidance he took the lead at once, and simply running away from the others won pulling up by six lengths. Buddie Kean struggled on gamely and outstayed Oh Yes for second place by a half length. Mary Erb raced promisingly.

Dixie Carroll has been expected to win a good race for some time back and after several disappointments made good in the fifth dash of today. It was a good betting race in which Opportunity's well-known mud running capabilities served to give him the post of honor as a well backed favorite. He flattered by making the running to the last turn, where Lyke brought Dixie Carroll up and, taking the lead after entering the stretch, the gelding won a good race by a length. Hadrian had passed Opportunity also and was a fast going second, the favorite saving second money. Opportunity stayed well enough when a three-year-old, but his races here this winter have been those of a sprinter only. He may do better later on in Kentucky racing.

For some reason it has happened of late that the second race here has fallen to a long priced horse, and today furnished no exception. Parrish at 12 to 1 was the lucky one today. He was away first and there he stayed to the finish, winning by a good two lengths from Alf Vezina, which is racing well at present.

Huntermann took the third race as easily as Parrish won the second. He had been expected for some time, and passing Tiger Rose when called on won without trouble from the latter. Cortland was a hot favorite here, but third was the best he could do, and there was no good reason for the preference accorded him.

General Mesrop Nazgapatian and Lady Anne Nazgapatian were visitors at the track this afternoon with a party and occupied prominent boxes. The General expressed his gratitude to the Jefferson Park management for their aid in making the recent Armenian Relief Fund Day a successful one. The appeal for aid on that occasion met with generous response from the racing people here.

Jockeys Wakoff and Rodriguez were each fined $25 by the starter for disobedience at the post.

Langden was so badly broken down after a workout over the Fair Grounds course this morning that he will have to be destroyed.

Westwood is going along steadily in his preparations with a view to starting in the Louisiana Derby next Wednesday, the last racing day here.

Sam McMeekin, the well-known Kentucky turf writer, was among the visitors this afternoon.

BELLE OF ELIZABETHTOWN A WINNER

Defeats Sirocco in a Drive—Much Interest in Sunday's Big Stake Race.

HAVANA, Cuba, March 10.—The much improved Belle of Elizabethtown accounted for today's feature when the horse came from behind and after a long hard stretch ride beat Sirocco by a neck. Different Eyes was third and Ima Frank fourth. The pace was fast from the start with Sirocco out in front. Ima Frank tired badly in the last sixteenth and was beaten by a length and a half for third place. The three-quarters was run in 1:12⅖, a fast race, considering the strong wind blowing against the horses in the first three-eighths.

A. Allegro, the owner of Scotch Verdict, has completed arrangements with D. Hammond for the services of the young rider E. Barnes, who will ride his horse in the Grand National Handicap Sunday.

Another large crowd was present and stirring contests were the rule.

Jockey F. Wilson, who has been riding here for the past few years had his first winning mount when he won with Buster Clark.

Jockey Fletcher was suspended for five days for crowding and pushing in the first hundred yards in the fifth race.

Kiku and Blue Wrack, two prominent candidates for the $13,000 Grand National Handicap, to be run next Sunday, have been named to start in the "Once Around" Handicap, a mile feature on Thursday's program.

Judge Lyles will conduct an auction sale at the horse paddock after the races Saturday, when the horses Eda Herrmann, Red William, The Talker, Bertha Minix, James G., Egmont, Frank Keogh, Bronita and Aerial will be sold.

Frank Grace, formerly with the stable of A. H. Diaz, has been engaged to train the stable of Albert Gascoigne.

M. J. Oliver has purchased Mary's Magneto from D. S. Fountain on private terms.

President Menocal notified general manager Frank J. Bruen of his intention to be present next Sunday to witness the Grand National Handicap.

Buster Clark, the winner of the first race, was claimed by J. W. Moore for $750.

Kay Spence has sold the good selling plater Foster Embry to J. Caballomal on private terms.

All Aglow was permitted to start February 28 through an oversight of the thirty-day period called for by the rules of horses claimed in selling races and transferred to another owner, which had not expired. The gelding was scratched in the third race yesterday because of the same fact.

HILDRETH'S BIG BAND OF ALL STARS

Formidable Array of Proved High Class Racers Ready for This Year's Campaign.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 10.—One of the strongest stables of horses that will soon start training for the spring racing season of 1920, is that owned by Samuel Hildreth and Harry Sinclair, but will carry the Hildreth colors and race under his name. Every one of the band, and there are sixteen in number, belong to the older divisions. Mr. Hildreth never dabbles much in young horses, preferring to buy at a good price after they have been developed. Heading the list is Purchase, whose claim to the three-year-old championship honors of 1919 was only disputed by Sir Barton. These two met once last year and Purchase was the victor, but opinions are divided as to which was the better of the two last year. The question may be settled this year in handicaps and stake fixtures. Following Purchase came Luccullite, an excellent handicap horse of fine speed, weight carrying ability and dangerous in any kind of company. Mad Hatter, the winner of the Latonia Championship Stakes, the richest stake of the year, is a horse that will compare favorably with the topnotchers, but is hardly the equal of his aforementioned stablemates. After these three come Thunderclap, Lord Brighton, Corn Tassel, Valor and Sunflash II. The three-year-old hope of the stable is the speedy Dominique, which has been nominated for the Kentucky Derby. There are those who believe he will be a worthy rival of Mr. Riddle's Man o' War. That he has great speed is unquestioned, consequently it is only a question of his going a long route. Jockey La Verne Fator will ride for the Hildreth stable. Following is the list of horses, age and breeding:

Stromboli, ch. g, 9, by Fair Play—St. Priscilla.
Regal Lodge, b. g, 8, by Beppo—Oriana.
Corn Tassel, br. g, 6, by Santoi—Cornfield.
Sunflash II., b. h, 6, by Sunbright—Napthalia.
Valor, ch. h, 6, by Ballot—Muriel.
Alibi, br. h, 5, by Tracery—Amicilia.
Luccullite, br. h, 5, by Trap Rock—Lucky Lass.
Princeps, ch. h, 5, by Fair Play—St. Priscilla.
Cirrus, b. c, 4, by Tracery—Morningside.
Lord Brighton, ch. c, 4, by Ballot—Miss Crittenden.
Mad Hatter, b. c, 4, by Fair Play—Madcap.
Purchase, ch. c, 4, by Ormondale—Cherryola.
Searchlight III., ch. g, 4, by Sweeper—Gas Jet.
Thunderclap, blk. g, 4, by Vulcain—Bandana.
Dominique, ch. c, 3, by Peter Quince—Berry Maid.
Krewer, b. c, 3, by Aldford—Keadean II.

SARATOGA IS TO BE SUPERLIGHTED

Racing folks will find a new kind of a Broadway at Saratoga next August. The town is going to have the brightest street in the world. Not content with its fame as one of America's greatest watering places and as one of the gayest horse racing centers in America the municipality has now taken steps to attract still greater attention by means of a Great White Way that promises to outshine anything of its kind. Appropriately enough, it's Broadway, Saratoga's Broadway, of course, that's to have this superillumination.

One set of light standards and one circuit will permit Saratoga to have superabundant light four months of the year, one that a fashionable summer resort requires, and an adequate and economical system the other eight months, as a village of 15,000 population might need. It also permits this Great White Way to be dimmed at midnight and to operate at a less intensity from that time on until morning.

In the base of each light pole is a relay box. By short circuiting the power at the power station, causing but a flicker in the illumination, the circuit is transferred by a movement in the relay box from a lamp producing 1,000 candlepower to a lamp producing but 250 candlepower. Both these incandescent lamps are within the same globe or fixture on the pole.

To get back the bright lights short circuit the power again and the relay throws over the current to the larger lamps, and so on back and forth as occasion demands.

A double globe fixture will be erected along Broadway, Saratoga's principal thoroughfare. This means that during the summer season there will be 2,000 candlepower supplied by each lamp until the circuit is changed at midnight, when it will be reduced to 500 candlepower, the illumination that will also be supplied the quiet eight months of the year.

The standards are located opposite each other, and have spacings of approximately 135 feet. The height of the center of the light source is twenty feet. Approximately one mile of street will be lighted by sixty-nine standards.

Congress Spring Park will also be superlighted. Fifty-three standards with fixtures similar in design to the Duo-Flux, but smaller, will be installed. Each globe will have a 250 candlepower series Mazda lamp.

Work on the installation will begin early in the spring, as it is to be in readiness for use next summer.

BROAD VIRGINIA GAME PRESERVE PLAN

RICHMOND, Va., March 10.—Instead of setting aside well stocked areas as game refuges the State of Virginia is planning some game preserves.

Owners of tracts of from 200 to 400 acres in each of the 440-odd magisterial districts are being sought who will bequeath to the commonwealth exclusive shooting privileges on such tracts.

The state will then post the areas and plant thereon mated pairs of quail, which the state will secure from Texas.

The quail are to be fed for the first few weeks, but no attempt will be made to keep them within the preserve, on the theory that if they are hunted outside the preserve they will speedily learn the places where they are not disturbed.

RIGHT ANGLE TO REMAIN IN CUBA

Willie Dugan, who brought Right Angle, Sycamoor and the three-year-olds Superior and Al Porter to Cuba, has decided to leave the latter pair in Cuba until next winter. They will be turned out at the Diaz farm for the summer. Sycamoor died here during the winter and he will probably dispose of the sprinter Right Angle before leaving. Several other horsemen will leave over part of their strings, as they found that horses which were left here last spring raced particularly well during the past winter. Blazeaway, Don Thrush and Riverside, all of which were here during the summer, were frequent winners.

KARRICK INSPECTS THE COE HORSES

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 10.—W. H. Karrick, trainer of W. R. Coe's horses, arrived here last night from New York and spent today looking at the Coe stallions and mares at Himyar Stud, also at other horses in this vicinity. Tomorrow he will go to Louisville to see a number of the juveniles in training there and to arrange for stable quarters at Churchill Downs, it being Mr. Coe's present intention to send David Harum and Cleopatra from the east to run in the Kentucky Derby, or it may be that he will decide to start the filly only in the stakes for her sex exclusively.
